From Fr. Rickert…

The month of November is dedicated to the Holy Souls in Purgatory. I take the occasion to mention something that I say at every funeral. In our lives on Earth, in the wayfaring state that we are, we must avoid both presumption and despair. As long as we are alive, we can still be saved, and God wants to save us, so we must not despair. At the same time, we can still be lost, so we must not presume. I believe we should have the same frame of mind towards those who have died: We should not presume that they have no need of our prayers, nor should we despair that our prayers are of help. If a soul we are praying for cannot benefit from our prayers, we can be sure that another soul in need will. May God reward you.

On the other days of the year this indulgence is a partial one. Handbook of Indulgences, No. 13.
